light-hearted
charming
legible

ITC Pino is Slobodan Jelesijevic's second suite of commercial fonts. Although it is a small family of three weights, it is quite versatile. Like many typefaces, Pino grew out of a need for a certain kind of design. Jelesijevic was creating illustrations for a children's magazine and needed a design that was light hearted, legible and would go with his personal illustrative style. Unable to locate a suitable design for this assignment, he decided to create his own font which became ITC Pino.
